CHAPEL HILL, NC – Lori Eichel, Partner and Co-Owner of Accent Construction, LLC has joined the Board of The Women's Center in Chapel Hill. Eichel will chair the Development Committee of The Women's Center with responsibility for spearheading the organization's fundraising efforts.

In 2006, Eichel served as Chair for the art show "Through Women's Eyes, By Women's Hands", the biggest annual fundraising event for The Women's Center. "The Women's Center provides important resources to females in our community, and I'm delighted to be taking a bigger role in the organization's development efforts," said Eichel. "Additionally, I'm looking forward to working toward common goals with strong women that I respect."

As an entrepreneur, she brings a wealth of experience to her new board position at the Center. Eichel has successfully launched her own business, raising venture capital and driving sales growth. After her company was acquired, Eichel joined Accent Construction in 2005. "We are thrilled with Lori's decision to join the board of The Women's Center. Her familiarity with the sales process affords her a comfort level in seeking funding to support the center and will allow her to assist other board members in the effort," remarked Ann Gerhardt, Executive Director.

"Our construction company has a focus on sustainability, applying innovative reuse and recycling methods to ensure human and natural systems flourish together," said Eichel. "In my work at The Women's Center, I hope to apply the concept of sustainability by providing women and young girls in our community tools of empowerment, such as financial literacy, legal services, career counseling and self esteem guidance, to help them flourish."
